Join us in Mystic, Connecticut for this first-ever Regional event!

Northeast Region NTMA Conference

About This Conference:

The Northeast Region NTMA Conference has been created to bring leaders from the precision custom manufacturing industry together to learn, share, network, and to strengthen our cohesion and collaboration as a group. Organized by the 4 New England NTMA Chapters, the goal is to create an event, modeled after the successful NTMA national conferences, that will offer attendees opportunities to build relationships and business knowledge on a more local level.

We encourage any company involved in the industry to join us in Mystic at this first of a kind event.

Together Everyone Achieves More!

About NTMA:

The National Tooling & Machining Association is the largest trade association in the U.S. serving the custom metalworking industry since 1943. NTMA members supply the parts, tools and molds that go in to the creation of every manufactured product in the world and serve vital industries such as defense, aerospace, agriculture, automotive, construction and many more. For more info on NTMA programs & services, go to www.ntma.org

Our Featured Speakers...

Friday, May 18 - 8:15 AM - 11:45 AM

Leadership at 12 o'clock High - David Hutton, CEO Right Brain World

The classic movie "12 O'clock High," is probably the most influential movie used in management training. This surprising fact is a consequence of the movie's remarkable portrayal of leadership styles. Dr. David Hutton's highly interactive presentation explores leadership in a unique way. The movie is used as a case study.

The presentation focuses on differing leadership behavioral emphases. Attendees will critically evaluate two commanders with very different styles, then discuss the effectiveness of the leadership behaviors demonstrated, and experience how an effective leader adapts leadership emphasis to meet specific situations.

Dr. David Hutton has a wealth of international business experience. He has held several executive level positions, as well as been CEO of both public and private companies. He is the CEO of Right Brain World, a training company specializing in creativity and leadership workshops. He holds a Ph.D. in engineering from the University of Southampton, U.K.

Friday, May 18 - 1:15 PM - 2:00 PM

Best Practices in Recruiting Your Future Workforce - Harry Moser, President Agie Charmilles Corp.

Finding and keeping skilled employees is a challenge for all of us. U.S. shops need about 5% more precision machinists and tool and die makers than are currently available. This shortage will continue to expand as we retire more employees than we train. I will present the best practices and tools for recruiting the quality and quantity of future workers needed to keep our shops and country competitive. I will also provide arguments to help you convince schools and colleges to strengthen their manufacturing programs to train these recruits.

Harry Moser, President of Agie Charmilles Corp., was President of Charmilles Technologies Corporation since 1985. Agie Charmilles is North America's largest supplier of EDM machine tools and 3 and 5-axis High Speed CNC mills.

Charmilles and Harry are national leaders in the fight to attract more of America's youth into the manufacturing trades. Harry regularly writes and speaks on issues such as international trade, importance of manufacturing for the future of the U.S. economy and how to compete with Southeast Asia.

Saturday, May 19 - 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM

NTMA Update - Jeff Kelly, NTMA 2007 Chairman of the Board, President - Hamill Mfg. Co.

There is a lot going on at NTMA and you'll hear about it first hand from the newly elected Chairman, Jeff Kelly. Jeff will update us on new NTMA initiatives such as the new workforce training project; existing programs like NTMA Metalworking Insurance and BotsIQ, and upcoming events including the 2007 Legislative Conference in June and the Technical Conference in September in conjunction with the American Manufacturing Expo. Jeff is passionate about workforce training and will speak with us about his NTMA Chairman's theme: Building a Skilled, Productive, and Loyal Workforce For The Future.

Jeff Kelly is President and majority owner of Hamill Manufacturing Company located in Penn Township, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. Hamill is a precision machining and fabricating company that serves the Naval Nuclear Propulsion Program and other defense related companies, the glass mold industry, the power generation industry, the aerospace industry, and other industries requiring high degrees of precision and quality. Hamill was a founding member of the NTMA Pittsburgh Chapter and has been a member of the NTMA since 1977.

OPTIONAL MYSTIC AREA ACTIVITIES - There is a lot to do in the Mystic area for your families or guests during the conference. The Mystic Aquarium, Mystic Seaport Maritime Museum, the Nautilus Museum, Pequotsepos Nature Center are all close by. Please indicate on the registration form if your guests would be interested in participating in optional group tours during the conference hours on May 18. If there is enough interest, optional group activities will be offered.
